

ENERGIC

European Network Exploring
Research into Geospatial
Information Crowdsourcing

Energic WG3 Meeting , Zürich, 26-27th May Programme

The meeting has had 3 distinct parts - brief research talks, brief impulse talks and plenary and group discussions.

Session One

Karoly Farkas: Event detection from crowdsensed data collected on public transportation vehicles

Imre Lendak: Simulation environment for applications utilizing data gathered by the urban crowd

Bin Jiang: Natural Cities Extracted from Social Media Location Data

Dragan Stojanovic: Methods for Analysis of Participatory and Mobile Crowd Sensing Data

Gennady Andrienko: Understanding Long-term Spatio-temporal Trends of Mobility

Stefano De Sabbata: Information Geographies

Session Two

Benedicte Bucher: Categories of Places

Gilles Falquet: Tag disambiguation

Frank Ostermann: Geographic Context Analysis of Volunteered Information

Natalia Andrienko: Privacy Preserving Discovery of Place Semantics from Human Activity Traces

Antonello Romano and Cristina Capineri: Zurich "real city"

Haosheng Huang: Identifying people's affective responses to environments from social media data

Session Three

Ivan Chorbev: Visualization of data from multiple social network platforms

Rob Lemmens: Visualization tools for VGI-driven Linked Data

The issues presenters were asked to focus on:

a) What questions are you trying to answer

b) What data are you using

c) What methods are you using

d) Where do you see needs for further research/ collaboration

